March 10, 2018

TO: Farmers, Ranchers, Forest Landowners and Resource Professionals

FROM: Victor L. Harris
Publisher & Editor

SUBJECT: Minority Landowner Farmers and Landowners Conference
Registration is Open

Registration is open for Minority Landowner Magazine's Farmers and Landowners Conference being held June 14-16, 2018 in partnership with USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service – Texas, at the Radisson Hotel El Paso Airport in El Paso, Texas.

The Conference

The conference will connect farmers, ranchers and landowners to agricultural resource professionals at the federal, state, university, community-based, and private sector level. Successful producer outreach occurs when producers are open to new information and to new methods of receiving information, and resource professionals are committed to continuous efforts to engage producers in a respectful manner wherever they may be.

Conference Registration for Farmers, Ranchers and Forest Landowners

The conference registration form is attached. A limited number of scholarships are available for farmers, ranchers and forest landowners. To register, complete and return the conference registration form. If you request a scholarship you will be notified whether your scholarship is approved, and if approved, your hotel reservation will be made for you. Scholarship hotel reservations are booked two participants per room. Scholarships cover registration and hotel, but not transportation.

Conference Registration for Resource Professionals

To register, complete and return the conference registration form, and submit your conference registration fee as directed on the form. The conference registration fee is $300. The hotel rate is $99 per night for a King Suite with a sofa. The deadline to receive our hotel group rate is May 24, 2018. Make your hotel reservation by calling the hotel directly at (915) 772-3333 or use the group reservation link: <http://www.radisson.com/minoritylandownermagazine>.
